NUMBER 6.
FEBRUARY 8, 1907, NORWAY, MAINE.
VOLUME XXXVIII

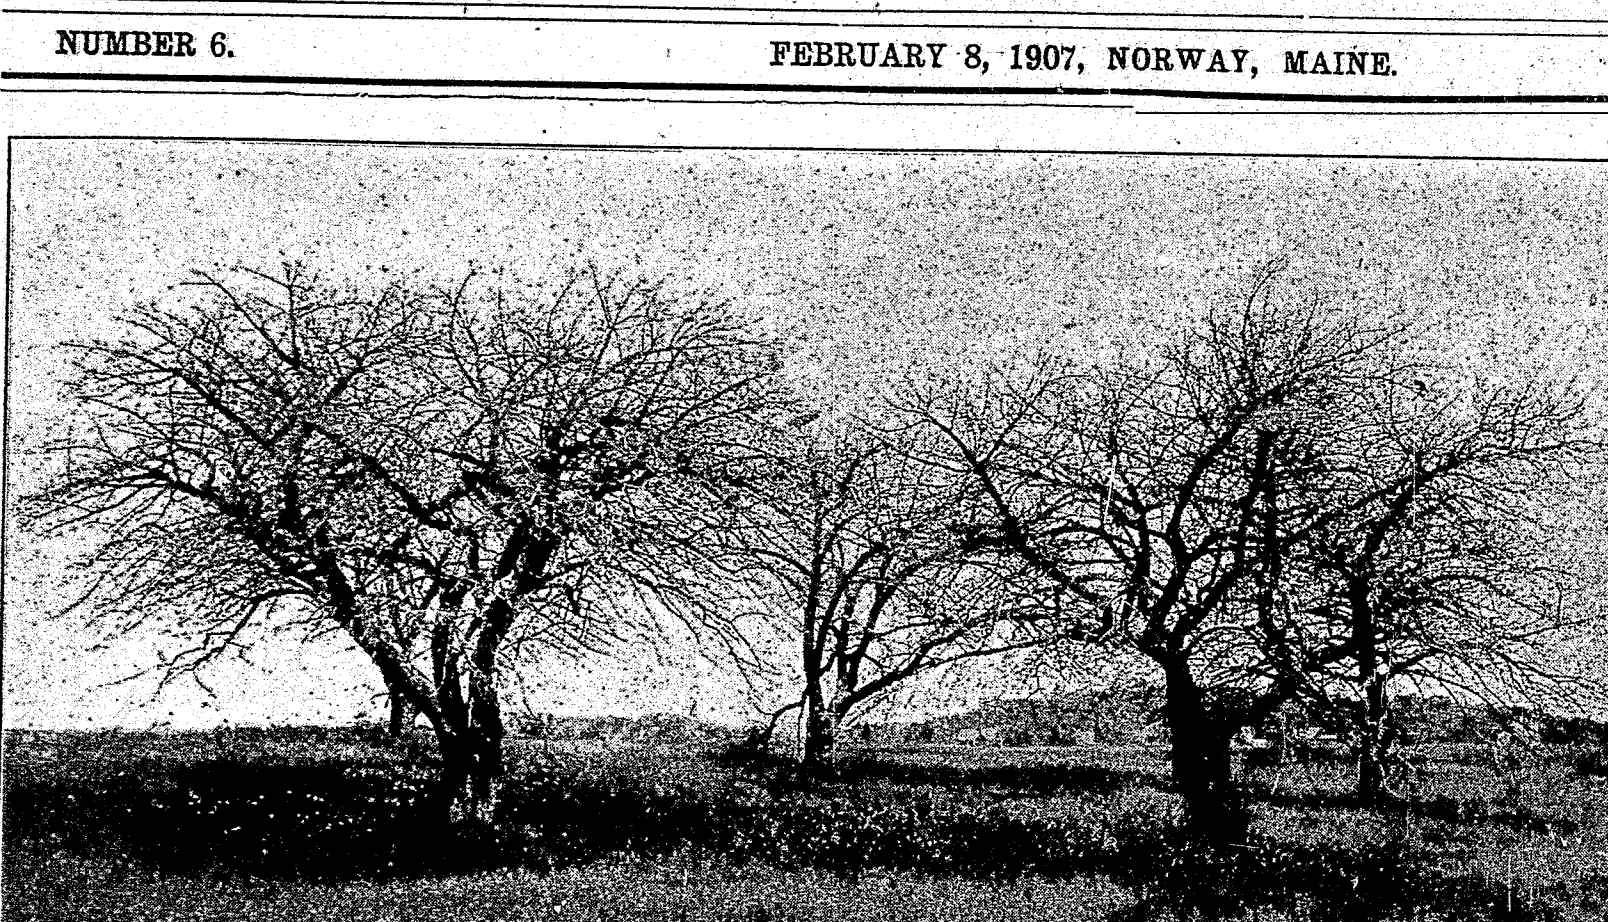

Apple Trees Stripped of Foliage by Brown-Tail Moths, in Winchester, Mass.
Photograph taken June 9, 1905.
To save your orchards you must pick and destroy the winter nests of these pests. Examine your trees! Do it now!

Brown Tail and Gypsy Moths.
The brown-tails are here. No one doubts that.
Forrest Thurston on the Isaac Titcomb
farm has found their winter nests; H. P.
Brown the same on his apple trees, Chas.
E. Gammon and Mr. Goudwin on Pike
Hill.
This covers a wide range and shows how they are distributed.
In the town of Paris it is about the same, also in Oxford and Hebron, and no doubt the same is true in Woodstock, Greenwood and Bethel.
What shall we do? The answer is easy. The winter nests must be picked and destroyed. Who is to do it? That is where opinions differ.
Ours is that the landowner must do it and should be neglected to do it, the town should clear the apple and cherry trees of the nests, and collect the expense of so doing of the negligent landowner as a tax.
There may be cases where this would be too much of a hardship, and if so, then the State should assist.
It's easy to think you know what ought to be done but how harder to get it done.
If we are to check the spreading of the brown-tails we must do it now.
The Gypsy moth has yet not got into this section of the county, but they are coming and are to be more dreaded as they are more destructive and their nests more difficult to find.
Inspector E. B. Philbrook of Portland says: "The Gypsy moth has invaded our State in alarming numbers. Already 515 nests have been found as follows:
Kittery 230, York 190, E. lot 83, Wells 47,
Kennebunk 11, Kennebunkport 3, Togus 1, and under conditions which indicate that we will find many more as soon as the snow is gone so it will permit of a thorough scout.
Monday last the Government scouts were held up on account of snow at Bid den and no more work will be done until later in the season. They will then cover the coast towns as far as Portland, returning by Western Division
B. & M., covering Lyman, Alfred, Saco and North and South Berwick and on to the New Hampshire line. A bill is before the New Hampshire Legislature asking for $50,000 annually to fight the Gypsy and brown-tail moths in that State, that will be of great good to our border towns."

Percy Nevins' children have all been sick with the measles.
The schools were closed Friday after noon on account of the measles.
The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs.
Eugene Andrews next Tuesday afternoon at 2.30.
John F. Hutchins has had a telephone put in, Number 112-6; also J. P. Jud kins, 3-11.
Helen Holmes is taking the librarian's Lizzie M. Johnson's place in the library.
The Democratic town committee have organized with Merton L. Kimball, chairman, and George A. Brooks, sec retary.
The young people's society of the Episcopal church will have a sociable and supper at G. A. R. hall, Monday evening, the 11th.
S. C. McAllister, who has been at Waterford to help care for his nephew, W. H. McAllister who has been sick, has returned home.
G. M. Harriman had a telephone put in his house last week, which makes 11 machines in this place. Rather a handy invention and a good thing to have in the house, especially in sickness.
Hortense Gregg is working in a print ing office in Lynn, Mass., and is taking lessons in shorthand evenings. She is also writing a story which she will pub lish next fall.
St. Valentine's Day is to be celebrated at the Grange hall by a dance, oyster supper, etc., under the auspices of the Grangers. The program is unique, rather better than last year, and that was first class.
At the regular meeting of Wilder Encampment, Friday evening, Feb. 8th, the Encampments at Bridgton and Me chanic Falls will be present as guests, also Leon S. Merrill. There will be music, the royal purple degree, and re freshments.
Dr. H. P. Jones has had a present of a fine Scotch Collie, "Bruce," from Arthur K. Shurtleff of West Paris. Bruce is a handsome dog, though just now he is a lonesome one. He feels keenly the loss of his former friends and if left alone does not hesitate to express his sadness.
He enjoys being led on a string in the street by Mrs. Jones.
Uncle Sebastian Streeter Smith cele brated his 88th birthday last Friday, Feb.
1st. Mr. Smith lives with his son, H. D.
Smith. Mr. Smith was born in this vil lage but spent the most of his life on a farm in Oxford just below the Covered Bridge.

Norway Municipal Court.

Officer G. F. Hathaway housed a tramp in the lock-up, Wednesday night. The following morning he was taken before Judge Jones, who sentenced him to 90 days at hard labor in the Auburn work shop.
He gave his name as John Ryan of New York and told Officer Hathaway the night before that if he didn't give him a piece to stop out of the cold, he would break a plate glass window and build a fire.
Judge Jones evidently thought he would put him in a safe keeping and where he would be kept warm and at work for three months at least.
Deputy Sheriff W. A. Bicknell started for Auburn with him, Thursday morn ing.

SOUTH PARIS.
A Twisted Affair.
At the supper of the Fan Tan club
last week everything was all off-twist.
The hostesses for the evening were Mrs.
H. E. Wilson, Mrs. I. E. Andrews, Mrs.
C. W. Bowker and Mrs. Wirt Stanley. and their twisted supper was a testi mony both to their hospitality and to ingenuity. The guests were supposed to be twisted in their costumes, and most of them were, in a manner most re markable. When they arrived they found a ladder laid on the stairs that they were to descend, so that they had to make their entrance to the hall backward.
The place cards at the table contained names in curious jumbles of letters.
After they were seated, an elegant re ception was given by the Fan Tan club past, such as the Fan Tan cake, well was set out. The menu included roast chicken, cranberry sauce, mashed po tatoes, onion, hot rolls, twisted doughnuts, cake in variety, sherbet, coffee and nuts, together with numerous varieties of pickles and similar appetizers. The guests were obliged to eat with their knives or go without was accepted as part of the game, though they object ed when no spoons were served with the sherbet and the knives had to do duty with that also. After supper there was a game of outwitting the twisted names of cities, at which Iva McArdle won the prize, and other novel diversions, which made the evening pass very pleasantly.
George W. Ripley.
The death of George W. Ripley, one of the oldest residents of Paris, occurred at his home about three miles north of the Hill on Sunday, Jan. 27. He was only a few days less than 90 years of age, as he was born Feb. 11, 1817. He was born and always lived in Paris.
He was the son of Capt. Uriah Ripley, who was a soldier of the war of 1812, and was the youngest in a large family of children, all of whom are now dead. He was a blacksmith by trade and also did a large amount of carriage work. He was a workman of more than usual abil ity.
June 17, 1841, he married Harriet War ren and they settled on Paris Hill but two or three years later went to the Warren homestead to care for Mrs. Rip ley's parents, where they have ever since lived. Mrs. Ripley survives him after a married life of more than sixty-five years. To them were born eleven chil dren of whom two sons and two daugh ters are living. G. K. Ripley of South Paris, James D. Ripley of North Paris, Mrs.
Olive Downs of Newark, N. J., and Mary, widow of Otis Howe, who has been with her parents for some years.
There are also a number of grandchild ren and great-grandchildren.
Mr. Ripley's two sons, who were of sufficient age, George K. and William enlisted early in the Civil war and Wil liam W. was killed at Chancellorsville.
Rev. J. H. Little officiated at the funeral, which was largely attended.
The remains were buried in the family grave by four grandsons of the deceased.
Mrs. Merrill of Bethel recently visited her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Dotten.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Evans of Errol,
N. H., are visiting Mr. Evans' parents.
A. Carl Tutts of Portland was in town last week to attend the funeral of his grandfather, George W. Ripley.
Mrs. Walter L. Gray is making a good recovery from her recent sickness.
C. E. McArdle and Horace L. Swan were drawn as jurors, Saturday for the March term of court.
Rev. W. T. Chapman of Oxford preach ed at the Methodist church, Sunday in exchange with the pastor, Rev. H. A.
Clifford.
The old engine at the factory of the Mason Mfg. Co., which was second-hand when put in, was found to use steam too fast and new one has been installed.
Rev. and Mrs. A. V. Pottle of Buck field were in town last week and were entertained at the parsonage by Rev.
and Mrs. H. A. Clifford together with the official board of the church.
Relatives from South Paris attended the funeral at Minot Saturday of Mrs.
Frances M., wife of Leonard F. Verrill.
Mrs. Verrill was the daughter of Joseph King of Paris and a sister of the late A.
C. T. King.
Ernest J. Record has bought the Colby house on Pleasant street which was badly damaged by fire about two months ago, the roof being practically burned off and the fire running down through the walls to some extent. Mr. Record has begun work on repairs and will get a roof on the building as soon as possi ble. The third floor will be changed somewhat from its former plan, the walls being carried higher and a flat roof put on so as to give three more rooms on that floor.
A reduction of fares has been made on the Grand Trunk from this place to Portland. The single fare is now $1.40, as against the former rate of $1.60.
Regular return fare is 2.35 instead of $2.70. The price of a Saturday ticket is $1.50, also a reduction of twenty cents from the former rate. Only the fare to Portland is reduced, the rate to other stations not being changed. The reduc tion is made to meet a reduction on the Maine Central, which makes a general reduction of its local fares on the first of February.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 78 Years Old,
Cured of a Terrible Case After Ten Years of Suffering.

When suffering daily torture
From backache, rheumatic pain,
Any ill of kidneys or bladder,
Turn to Doan's Kidney Pills.
A cure endorsed by thousands.
Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift any thing, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Justus will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

Written for the Advertiser
Peace.

"The peace that passeth all understanding"
What is it worth dear one to thee?
The peace that shall grow, expanding
From here to the shores of Eternity;
That banishes grief and pain, commanding
Their cruel power to cease to be.

A mighty peace from which to borrow Courage to face the coming years.
Though our souls were broken, sorrow
Would melt in the warmth of the peace that cheers.

Till we joyously look to each glad to-morrow, Untroubled by earth's blight of doubts and fears.

When we've drunk our fill of all worldly pleasure,
That have proven but ashes and bitter dust,
When we've hoarded our fill of earthly treasure,
To have them corroded, destroyed by rust,
Ah, then seek peace, from her brimming measure.

Drink deep, forgetting a world unjust.
There is a "peace that floweth like a river,"
With calm and healing for broken hearts;
Then therefore stand ye fearless here a-shiver Hugging your useless pains, and stinging smarts?

Lift up your tear stained face, the bounteous
Will smile on thee a peace that ne'er departs.
Will smile, and there will be no more of weeping.
No more of sorrow, parting, or of pain,
And all our grief we'll give into His keeping,
And in His love we'll find our true relief.
And death shall lose its sting, "till we be asleep.

To awaken into fairer life again.
— CORA M. W. GREENLEAF.

Lines.
Written for and read at the joint installation of Post and Relief Corps by Mrs. F. L. Higgins of Gilead.

Only a verse to give you,
Only a wish, a prayer,
Only a benediction
In which we all may share.

With pride we lift our hearts to-night,
With pride our voices raise
In honor of the flag we love,
The flag all nations praise.

You know the story of that flag,
How ruthless hands laid low,
Its crimson bars and pure white stars,
In those days of long ago.

Dear friends, invited guests to day,
You know the story well,
Can these heroes fight and died,
And lived in prison cell.

To save that flag, that emblem grand,
Of peace and union throughout the land,
You know the honor they deserve,
The honor that is their due.

Then place their names where time nor tide
Can efface them from our view.
Only a benediction,
Called down at this closing hour;
May God in His mercy keep to
By His grace and mighty power.

And when the last great call shall come,
From the great white throne above,
May every veteran, blue or gray,
Find God's forgiving love.

And may each when life is done,
Find mercy at His throne;
And through the death of His dear Son,
Have Heaven for his home.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; if sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism,
pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage.
It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine, it should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free
by mail. Address Dr.
Kilmer & Co., Eng-
hampton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

STATE OF MAINE.
County of Oxford, ss.
To the Hon. Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court next to be held at Paris within and for the County of Oxford on the second Tuesday of March, 1907.

Mary L. Dow of Rumford Falls, in said County of Oxford, would libel and give this Honorable Court to be informed that she was lawfully married to her husband, Beecher Dow, on the 25th day of June, 1904, in the County of Carleton and Province of New Brunswick; that they have lived together as husband and wife, Houlton and Rumford Falls, in the State of Maine, for more than one year prior to the date of this libel; that since said intermarriage your Libellant has conducted herself toward her husband as a chaste and affectionate wife, but that he, regardless of his marriage contracts and obligations, has been guilty of cruel and abusive treatment of your said Libellant and is also guilty of gross and continued habits of intoxication. And your Libellant further states that the residence of her husband is unknown to her and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence, which she has used, but to no purpose.

Wherefore she prays right and justice and that the bonds of matrimony existing between her and her said husband, may be dissolved according to law, in such case made and provided.

Dated at said Rumford Falls this 25th day of January, 1907.

Friday was a busy day at the Opera House, cleaning up after Mac's Minstrels. It is a very unusual occurrence when the seating capacity of the Opera House will not accommodate the people without obtaining seats from outside.

An item has been going the rounds about the prominent part played by women in the business and professional life of the town of Norway. Now Bridgeton is heard from. P. ever issued to a woman in Maine; one assistant bank cashier; to say the least, two conducting business houses which they own; quite a few prominent in the business houses; and any number competent to do all the things mentioned among the possibilities for Norway."

The seats and chairs that had been borrowed from Concert hall and other places to accommodate the large crowd, were returned by Llewellyn Cushman. It is a very unusual occurrence when the seating capacity of the Opera House will not accommodate the people without obtaining seats from outside.

An item has been going the rounds about the prominent part played by women in the business and professional life of the town of Norway. Now Bridgeton is heard from. Says the News: "We now have a woman pastor of one of our village churches; one superintendent of schools; one holding the first commission as J. P. ever issued to a woman in Maine; one assistant bank cashier; to say the least, two conducting business houses which they own; quite a few prominent in the business houses; and any number competent to do all the things mentioned among the possibilities for Norway."

Mac's Minstrels.

Most Successful Show Ever Presented at Norway Opera House.

Mac's Minstrels, presented at the Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, Jan. 31, was a record breaker in the history of the show.

The advance sale was the largest ever known and long before the curtain rose every seat in the hall was taken and a large number were standing. There were 650 or 700 people in the hall. A number came and not finding seats went away. One gentleman went in and not finding a suitable chance came out and soon returned with a camp seat.

F. J. McCarthy's ability as a manager of shows is well known to the people of this section, as previous to this he has in the past few years managed several shows of local talent with great success. He is particularly adapted to this work, having had years of experience with various professional companies.

This company of Minstrels was composed of 40 of Norway's popular young ladies. That they had been carefully trained for the performance was very evident from the excellent manner in which each part was rendered.

The first number on the program was the overture by the whole company. The company was arranged in nice order on elevated seats at the rear of the stage with Alice Schmeier, as interlocator, seated in the center. With the exception of six of the young ladies, who took the parts of bones and tambos, all were dressed in white and made a charming picture. In front at either side of the stage were the bones, this part being taken by Iona Moore, Grace Goodwin and Annie Mattor and the tambos were Ethel Millett, Lotta S. Richardson and Agnes N. Seguin, who in their typical negro costumes, made a striking contrast to the rest of the company. Their witty remarks and jokes between each number brought frequent applause from the house. During the performance a young lady appears with a plate of cookies, of which they partook with apparent relish. One of them has discovered that a person may be in two places at once. On being asked to explain, she states that she received a letter from a relative, saying that he was in Portland and home sick.

Gladys Keene sang "When the Song Bird Sings." Edith Sweet, who was heartily applauded. Several jokes were introduced here. A lady was going by a store when her hat blew off and hit a man in the face. It cost her husband $5 to settle. That was nothing though to another lady who was going by a millinery store and saw a hat and it cost her husband $25.

The contralto solo by Exilia Blouin "Sailing to Dreamland," was a pleasing number. Following this was a fine duet that though the lawyer was dead and in his grave, he was lying still. When the freeman was dead he had gone to his last fire. When asked by the interlocator what kind of a tombstone she should get for her brother, she answered, "The endstone, 'I'm Dreaming of You.'"

The endstone, "I'm Dreaming of You," by Lotta S. Richardson, was finely rendered and heartily enjoyed. "When the Golden Sunbeams Softly Steal Away" sung by Annie R. Moore was one of the best numbers. Miss Moore is a fine singer and it is indeed a pleasure to listen to her. Mrs. Bertha Miller, an excellent soprano soloist, rendered the song, "Love's Enchantment." The end song, "Ida Ho" as rendered by Iona Moore was a very pleasing number and heartily applauded.

A song and dance by six of the little young ladies; Beryl C. Millett, Marjorie Locke, Marjorie L. Barker, Anna L. Brooks, Bernice M. Nash and Azula Pike was one of the prettiest parts of the program. The Comedienne of the company was Iona Moore who entertained the company with songs and jokes that brought down the house. She was dressed in male attire. She handled the jokes in an easy off hand manner.

Norway's lady trio, Mrs. Ava Y. Bradbury, Mrs. Ida Kimball and Mrs. Stella Burnham sang a selection which met with the hearty approval of the audience. A taking feature of the program was the conversation duet "Cupid is a Little Mischief Maker," by Marion L. Bangs and Alma E. Shepard, introducing buck and wing dancing. They were escorted several times and were each presented with a handsome basket of flowers.

The walking song, "The Troubles of the Reubin and the Maid," is one of the latest musical successes and was given in good style by six of the ladies. Boston's latest craze, "Good Night Good Night," a sextette song and dance, by Marie Seguin, Grace Goodwin and Iona Moore as chappies and Lotta S. Richardson, Ethel Millett and N. Vivian Ranger was the closing number of the up-to-date, well presented and best attended entertainment of the kind ever given here.

Norway Municipal Court.

The case of William E. Pierce of Somerville, Mass., and W. J. Longe of Essex River, Vt., which was tried Wednesday and continued until Thursday afternoon of last week, resulted in each man getting 60 days in jail. The sixth of last December the court each borrowed a mileage of Fred Pike. The book borrowed by Pierce was worth $18.08, and by Longe $18.44. They were in this section canvassing for crayon portraits.

Books not being returned a search was begun for the men and after an extended hunt they were located at Seaport, Me. Deputy Sheriff W. L. Farrar went down and brought the men here. They will not have much use for mileage books for a few weeks.

Accidentally Shot.

Arthur A. Flint, manager of a lumber company at Parmachene lake, is dead as the result of a shooting accident. While reloading a shot gun Flint received the contents of a cartridge in his chest, accidentally exploded, the shot passing through his body and causing death within a short time. Flint was 38 years old. Several years ago he was well known among Boston and New York sportsmen as a guide in the Parmachene region.

MOTHERHOOD

The first requisite of a good mother is good health, and the experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as a woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, more successfully than by any other medicine because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism, curing displacements, ulceration and inflammation, and the result is less suffering and more children healthy at birth. For more than thirty years

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standby of American mothers in preparing for childbirth. Noteworthily Mrs. James Chester of 75th St. New York says in this letter: "I wish every expectant mother knew about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A neighbor who had learned of its great value at the trying period of a woman's life urged me to try it and I did so, and I cannot say enough in regard to the good it did me. I recovered quickly and in the best of health now."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a successful reagent for the entire feminine organism, curing displacements, ulceration and inflammation, and the result is less suffering and more children healthy at birth. For more than thirty years

It has cured almost every form of Female Complaints, Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation, Ulcerations and Organic Diseases of Women and is invaluable in preparing for Childbirth and during the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

Woman Like She Wants the Last Word.

As the women of this vicinity have been so well advertised over the country the writer wishes to state a few facts for the closing chapter of a worn out topic, viz: "Who are the business managers of these two towns?" It would not be polite for you, Mr. Editor, to slur "petticoat government," for we all know that a large proportion of the brains of your "firm" belong to a woman. And when you have "that tired feeling, just back your sporting paraphernalia and go off to Moosehead lake or Goosehead pond for a month, and see if a woman will not "edit" your paper in good form if you are not there to do the swearing.

Another Norway lady is duly authorized to "tie the knot" for any happy couple who requires her service in this line, and can also insure the new home to which they go against fire, but she does not have the agency to insure them against "fidelity jags."

The lady shoe dealer is quite as successful in the business as was her father before her, who has gone to his rest. The correct official title of the manager in a Savings bank is "Treasurer," and that of a National bank "Cashier."

A few years since a woman connected with the Groton, N. Y. Iron Bridge Co. entered the National bank with an out-of-town man. The cashier being absent, as usual the assistant was on duty at the time. After the business had been transacted he remarked to the woman, "You are as they were leaving, that he had been in a good many National banks all over the country but never before had he met a lady cashier. Probably he had heard the old saying that 'there is nothing new under the sun,' but he was others present who overheard his remark, and the writer was one of them.

A president of one of the largest financial institutions of the country, states, "There is a conspicuous trait in the feminine nature is fidelity to trust. We do not often read of a woman making two and two 'show up six,' as so many men are prone to do, but if an angel of light" should appear in a criticism as to her robe not being of the right length, or not as spotless as it should be. We hope the men will not contract nervous prostration, fearing they will be "governed" by any woman other than the lawful overseers of their homes.

And now, let the worthy sisterhood of business women "pursue the even tenor of their ways," unnoticed, trusting that they will find jeweled crowns waiting for the "governed" when they cast their final "trial balance" and close their "last account." A WOMAN.
